

iPad: Setting Parental Control Restrictions

Parental controls (Restrictions) are available on the iPad, if needed. These restrictions will only work on downloaded iTunes music, games and apps. Restrictions will not restrict or block inappropriate websites when using Safari or any other web browser app.

To setup parental control restrictions:

1. Select "General" from the iPad home screen.

2. Select "Restrictions," and set to "Enable."

3. Select a 4-digit code that will act as your password to modify or turn off restrictions.

NOTE: If forgotten or lost, this code cannot be retrieved from the device. Write down and store the pass code in a safe location to avoid having to totally re-set your iPad in the case of a lost code!

4. Once the restrictions page appears, select the level of limitations to meet your needs.

- You will be given the option to disable Safari, iTunes purchases, YouTube and more. This screen will also give you the option to limit the rating of music, movie and TV media that can be viewed while restrictions are enabled.

5. Under “Apps” in “Allowed Content,” parents can select an appropriate age range rating to determine which apps on the device will be accessible to children. If desired, all apps can be disabled by selecting “Don’t Allow Apps.”

6. Tap the home button once restrictions are set.
