

iPad Tips & Tricks – International Keyboard

Putting on international keyboard gives you lots of new options. For example, it allows you to hold down .com to reveal a range of international website regions such as .fr for France.

Go to Settings, General, Keyboard, and select International Keyboard. Here you will see your current keyboard. You can then select Add New Keyboard. Tap this to see a list of available keyboard. You can add as many as you like.

Next time you type you will see a globe icon next to the space bar. Tap this to cycle through your options.
